

What can you do with information?

- When a musician is composing a new song, she is creating information.
- When a secretary is writing down what his boss is saying, he is recording information.
- When you are opening a book, you are accessing information.
- When you are thinking what happened in that book, you are processing information.
- People in ancient Egypt stored information by writing in stone.
- When stranded on a deserted island, you transfer information by a 'message in the bottle'.
- When people were listening to the radio, they were using information.

Now it's your turn!

When you want to shoot a video and push the 'red dot', you start to
(1) information.

When you enter your e-mail address and password on Facebook, you're trying to
(2) your profile.

20 years ago people used to
(3) information on floppy discs.

When you're drawing a new picture in Paint, you're
(4) information.

When you're enjoying a 'cat video' on YouTube, you're
(5) information.

When you're downloading a file from the Internet, you're
(6) information.

When you add an 'Instagram' effect to your photo, your device has to
(7) information.